

2016 TPA National Coaching Conference

Featuring NATHALIE TAUZIAT

February 25 – Toronto, ON

8:00 AM – 3:30 PM

The Tennis Professionals Association is proud to present the eleventh annual TPA National Coaching Conference. This year's conference features former coach of Eugenie Bouchard, Nathalie Tauziat. The conference will also feature National Training Centre coach Sylvain Bruneau and fitness coach Andre Parent.

A former tennis player herself, Tauziat attained her career high ranking of number 3 at the age of 32, making her the oldest woman to debut in the top 3, and the fourth oldest player to hold a top 3 ranking. Tauziat won 8 singles and 25 doubles titles over the course of her playing career. After finishing her playing career Tauziat began coaching, where she has had significant influence over Canadian talent. Nathalie was the coach for Eugenie Bouchard in 2012 when she won the Junior Wimbledon singles title. Nathalie currently works with top female junior Canadian player and recent winner of the U18 Orange Bowl, Bianca Andreescu. Also presenting at this year's conference will be Canadian Fed Cup Captain, and head of Women's tennis Sylvain Bruneau. Joining Sylvain and Nathalie will be Andre Parent, who works with the National Training Centre program in Montreal, and has trained such players as Milos Raonic, Sharon Fichman, and Aleksandra Wozniak.
