

TPA / TDC NCAA Workshop

Presented by Tim Donovan, Richard Crowell & Severine Tamborero

NOVEMBER 6 (TORONTO, ON) & NOVEMBER 7 (MONTREAL, QC)

The Tennis Professionals Association (TPA) presents two TPA/TDC workshops that will focus on the options available to our junior players at University Tennis both in the US and in Canada. These workshops will count as a half day recertification for all participants and will be delivered by Tim Donovan, Richard Crowell & Severine Tamborero.

Donovan is the founder of Donovan Tennis Strategies and was formerly an assistant coach at Harvard University. He achieved a top 300 world ranking on the ATP World Tour and reached a high of #6 in the NCAA Division I National Rankings. Donovan has presented at various events including the USTA Conference and is a certified USTA High Performance Coach.

Crowell has been with Tennis Canada since 2005 and is the Director of Community Tennis. In addition to his roles in the community department, Richard serves as a course facilitator for Coach 2 certification and the Community Tennis Volunteer Course. He was formerly the fitness coach for Tennis Canada's provincial and national U12 teams working with many of Canada's top prospects including Milos Raonic, Canada's No. 1 ranked singles player.

Tamborero, currently Director of High Performance Club and U10 Talent Development and a Level 4 Coach, is a former top national level Canadian player. She is a former National Coach and Manager of Wheelchair Tennis. More recently she has been a National Coach working at the National Junior Training Program with Quebec's top U8, U10 and U12 players.
