April 3, 2020

The Tennis Professionals Association continues to send you our best wishes for continued good health and safety. Given the current state of the climate and while we cannot be on-court, we might find ourselves with more time to complete professional development at home.

The TPA is pleased to announce the launch of our BRAND NEW Quality Standards for Kids Tennis online module! In addition to expanding our online professional development offering, starting today (April 3rd) until the end of the month, the Quality Standards module will be FREE. To register for the module, click here.

This new TPA online professional development opportunity, created by Tennis Canada and the TPA, aims to raise the quality and consistency of children's tennis programs to provide safe environments and positive experiences that promote life-long participation. It counts as a full-day re-certification opportunity, which can extend expiry date based on current expiry. For more information on this online course click here.

Let's remain optimistic that our efforts will go the distance to mitigating risk and soon enough we will return to working order.

Register today while the modules are free (and save $49.00).

Please note that although you must fill in your credit card information and click "make payment", there is no charge for the module.

Tennis Professionals Association
The Tennis Professionals Association (TPA) is a member-based association dedicated to growing the profession of tennis coaching throughout Canada. The TPA was developed by Tennis Canada for Canadian certified Instructors, Coaches, and Club Professionals. The TPA's mission is to support members in their contribution to the growth of tennis in Canada. For more information, visit www.tpacanada.com.

Inquiries
Ryan Borczon
Senior Manager, Tennis Professionals Association
1-877-283-6647 x7952
rborczon@tenniscanada.com

Nicole Artuso
Coordinator, Tennis Professionals Association
1-877-283-6647 x7944
tpa@tenniscanada.com